Regional Focus Group Meeting

Developing the Course on "Anti-Corruption in Business Transactions" for Law Faculties in the Arab Region

Tunis, Republic of Tunisia, 15-16 February 2013

The Faculty of Juridical, Political and Social Sciences in Tunis is hosting a regional focus group meeting on 15-16 February 2013 with the support of UNDP's Regional Project on Anti-Corruption and Integrity in the Arab Countries. The meeting falls within the framework of current efforts to integrate anti-corruption issues in various training and educational programmes in the region and aims to progress the work on establishing a course on "anti-corruption in business transactions". Once developed, the course will be adapted and integrated into the curricula of prominent law faculties in selected countries. The course is expected to include a general section on corruption and the tools used to combat it, as well as specific sections that deal with corruption in business transactions and the related particularities of the region and country in question. Meeting participants include senior representatives of leading law faculties from Morocco, Palestine, Qatar, and Tunis as well as prominent regional and international experts.

Friday 15 February 2013
